

SAFETY QUEST

Many people are injured and die in home electrical fires every year. Downed power lines and unsafe use of electricity can also cause serious injury. To make sure your family is safe, basic electrical safety principles should be reviewed each year. Respecting electricity is the best way to prevent injuries and fires.

Activity - Safety Quest

Mark a circle around the images of people using electricity safely and mark an "X" over the pictures that show an electrical safety concern.

